World Assured U.S. Backs Up Marshall Plan

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia arrived here by plane today for conferences with the British and French foreign ministers on the U.S. aid-Europe program. He was accompanied by Alexander E. Bogomolov, Russian ambassador to France, who had been visiting in Moscow.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The world received assurances today, on the eve of the critical Molotov-Bevin-Bidault economic conference, that the United States government is solidly behind State Secretary Marshall's proposals for European recovery based on self-help.

Diplomatic authorities say the real appeal of the Marshall plan for Europe to devise some program making more effective use of its own resources for economic recovery is the prospect held out to them of United States help in financing a program until Europe is really on its feet again.

American officials are by no means certain that Molotov's attendance at the Paris meeting is any proof of a Russian desire to go along on the basis of conditions acceptable to the United States.

GIVES CLASSIFICATION

Treasury Secretary Snyder, who is chairman of the government's national advisory council on foreign financing, held a press conference Wednesday at which he was questioned in detail about Marshall's Harvard proposal.

Snyder himself cleared away concern over his views by in effect endorsing the recovery proposal and by declaring that his earlier statements "should be nowise interpreted as disagreeing in any respect with the comments made by State Secretary Marshall at Harvard."

Marshall first launched his proposal in a speech at Harvard University June 5.

1,000 Settlers Arrive

MONTREAL (CP)—In sunshine and with a cool breeze blowing across the harbor, the troop carrier Waterman arrived here today, bringing 1,000 Netherlands to new homes in Canada.

Cabinet Member, R.C.M.P. Officer Tell Of Dangers Of Communism

HAMILTON (CP)—State Secretary Gibson charged today that the "forces of Communism," organized on an international basis, are seeking to undermine the foundations of free democracy and bluntly warned that these forces were at work within the borders of the Dominion, seeking to disrupt the Canadian way of life.

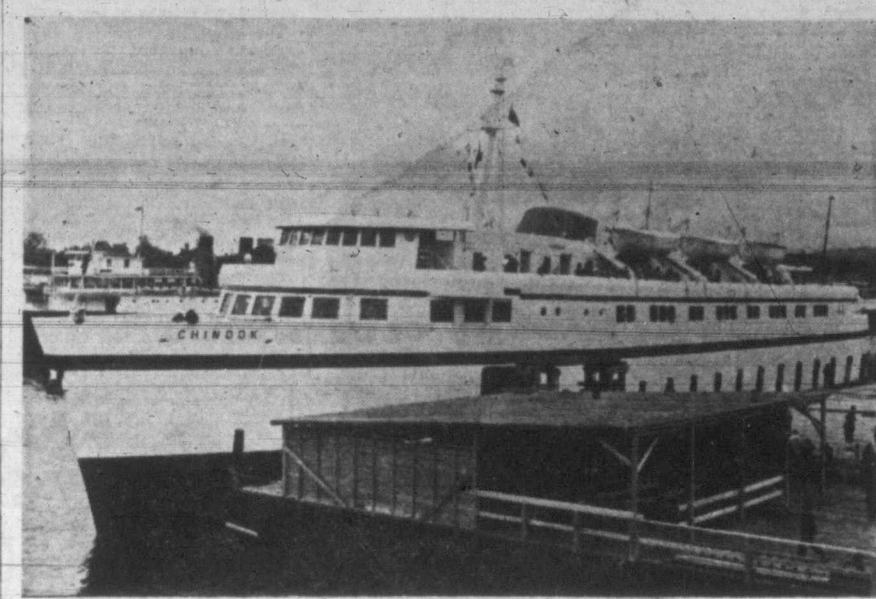

He spoke to a meeting of the Torch Clubs. "We have at present powerful forces engaged in a calculated attempt to disrupt our way of life," he said.

"We watch objectively, and unfortunately with some indifference, the overthrow of democratic institutions in other lands and tend to explain these events as the result of political and social instability of these peoples. We argue with ourselves that such events cannot happen here. "In such an attitude lies our very weakness, for democracy is a way of life which calls for active participation and mutual sacrifices on the part of every citizen."

NATIONAL SPIRIT NEEDED

Canada could benefit greatly from the older cultures which would be brought here by immigrants, but much remained to be done if "we hope to build up a national spirit in this country." He said there were in Canada 74 language papers, exclusive of Chinese and Japanese, published at regular intervals, and "of these no less than 16 are preaching Communism." "I have read extracts from some of these papers, the only papers that some of our immigrants can read, and it is horrifying to find the propaganda that is being circulated to glorify the benefits of Communism." "Subversive activities, moreover, are not confined solely to a

New Tourist Ferry Here On Maiden Trip

Mv. Chinook, built by the Puget Sound Navigation Company to assist in handling the ever-growing tourist traffic between Washington State and Vancouver Island, was given a rousing reception on her first trip this forenoon from Seattle and Port Angeles. The ferry—of revolutionary design—brought in about 300 passengers and 50 automobiles. She will be operated here in daily service by the Black Ball Line. (See story page 15.)

Special Courtroom Packed For Nanaimo Strike Trial

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—First test of British Columbia's new labor code opened here today when 30 union officials and members came before the court to answer charges laid under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

After preliminary procedure, Magistrate Beevor-Potts, at the request of defence counsel, adjourned the hearing to July 2.

The men charged are members of the Laundry Workers' Union (C.C.L.) Local One, and the action follows a strike at the Imperial Laundry plant here where the workers walked out June 9 in protest against dismissal of two women employees.

Before a packed courtroom of labor representatives, special Prosecutor F. S. Cunliffe outlined the case.

The union members are charged with participation in a strike before the new act's conciliation procedure had been complied with. It provides penalties for both union officers and members participating in an illegal strike.

The Eagles' Hall, one of the largest auditoriums in Nanaimo, was used for the court today, providing seating for 200 spectators. The hallways were also packed. Defence counsel Robert J. McMaster, without making a plea, requested adjournment to prepare his case.

He would not concur in a suggestion that, to save time, he might be willing to enter "not guilty" pleas.

Announcing his preparedness to proceed, Mr. Cunliffe informed the court he realized the difficulties Mr. McMaster faced, having recently been instructed in the case. He then moved for some technical corrections to all three charges, correctly naming the Imperial Laundry, City Cleaners and Dyers of Nanaimo. The courtroom spectators included representatives of practically every local trades union with delegations from other Island and mainland points.

The scene evidenced the keen interest. A uniformed B.C. police squad was in attendance. Defence, crown counsel and the accused local officials were huddled at one table, while other tables were recruited from lodge rooms for use by stenographers, press, and officials.

When adjournment was announced the entire assemblage of strike supporters formed orderly ranks and marched to the C.P.R. wharf to await arrival of Harold Winch, Opposition leader, and other M.L.A.'s from the mainland. A welcome demonstration occurred there, with a march to the picket line at the "struck" plant.

Italian President Returns To Office

ENRICO DE NICOLA

ROME (CP)—Re-elected today as Provisional President of the Italian Republic, Enrico De Nicola told the president of the Constituent Assembly that he will remain in his post.

De Nicola's election came within 24 hours of his formal resignation on grounds of poor health. He received 405 of the 431 votes cast, far more than the three-fifths necessary for election. De Nicola's message to the Assembly Wednesday said his health "impedes me absolutely from exercising my functions any longer." He is 69 years old.

Fight Victim-Fit On Entering Ring

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Boxing Commission reported today that Jimmy Doyle was physically fit and ready when he entered the ring against Ray Robinson in the welter-weight championship bout that resulted in Doyle's death.

The report was prepared at the request of Mayor Thomas Burke at a special meeting called by Commission Chairman Andrew Putka.

CBC Open To All

OTTAWA (CP)—The C.B.C. attempts to give business, labor, agriculture and other groups an opportunity to broadcast their views, A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors, testified this afternoon before the radio committee of the Commons.

He told R. R. Knight, C.C.F., Saskatoon City, that the CBC had started last week a new series of broadcasts that will give business and labor a chance to express their views alternately. The programs had been worked out with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Congress of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress.

Cloudy Weather Cuts Fire Hazard Throughout B.C.

Cloudy weather and scattered showers have reduced the rising forest fire hazard throughout the province, B.C. Forest Service officials said today.

This news followed an announcement that Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney has ordered Sayward Forest closed north of Duncan as of midnight Sunday to all but logging and industrial concerns. Travelers wishing to go through the forest will have to obtain permits, which may be taken out at Bloedel, on the main Kelsey Bay Road, and near Duncan Bay, on the Elk Falls Road.

In the meantime, the forestry service advises that all cars intending to travel in that area carry emergency fire-fighting equipment such as axe, shovel and pail.

However, conditions today have considerably reduced the hazard with charts showing humidity well above the danger line in all areas. Conditions in the interior are good and no fires are reported there today.

A synopsis of the weather forecast says a complex storm which moved down the B.C. coast overnight has brought overcast skies to the whole province and rain has fallen over all regions. Clearing is expected in the northern interior today and Friday but only slight clearing is expected elsewhere in the province.

A.F.L. Chief Turns Down General Strike Demand; To Organize Politically

Migrant Artist Held As Police Probe Murder

VANCOUVER (CP)—John Andras, a 35-year-old self-styled artist who had been living in a supposedly unoccupied army hut in Stanley Park for the past two weeks, today appeared as a surprise link in the baffling chain of circumstances which ended early Sunday with the strangling of 27-year-old Mrs. Norma Burton.

Charged with vagrancy, Andras is the third man to be arrested in connection with the slaying. Also held are Elmer Johnson, slight, 25-year-old baker accused of murder, and material witness Arthur Miller.

Andras told police he saw two couples sitting on the grass near his hut about midnight Saturday. The bruised and twisted body of pretty Mrs. Burton was found not far away early Sunday.

Police have established that the quartette seen and spoken to by Andras was the party of which Mrs. Burton was a member. Others were Johnson, Miller and a second woman whose identity has not been revealed.

DID NOT ENTER HUT

Andras said he invited them into his hut but they refused. Police believe he was the last person to see the foursome before Mrs. Burton was slain.

They said he had once been an inmate in an asylum for the insane.

Meanwhile, police renewed efforts to locate a mysterious telephone tipster, as they prepared for the preliminary hearing July 2 of Johnson, who claims he left Mrs. Burton unharmed in the park.

The tipster telephoned police headquarters at 3:30 a.m. Sunday saying he had found a man bending over "a dead woman" in the park. Repeated appeals have been made for the man to make his whereabouts known.

Logger Drowns When Rowboat Swamps

Donald Lee Curtiz, 21, 474 Powell Street, Vancouver, a logger, was drowned when his rowboat swamped off Harbledown Island, near Alert Bay, last night, according to Provincial Police here. His body was recovered and brought to the bay where a coroner's inquest was scheduled for today. Curtiz, a veteran of the U.S. navy, was married and had been employed in logging operations near Alert Bay.

High But Not Dry

A flash flood that swept through Cambridge, Neb., picked this house up and dropped it on its own front porch. Eleven persons were killed by the flood and 35 more were reported missing.

Goes To Prison

MAYOR JAMES M. CURLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Judge James M. Proctor refused today to suspend Boston Mayor James M. Curley's mail fraud sentence and ordered that Curley begin serving the six to 18 months in prison immediately.

The judge said: "I regard the case as ended as far as the court is concerned."

The 72-year-old mayor, who had asked for a suspension on ground of ill-health, rose from his seat and cried out: "You are sentencing me to die."

Adamantly, the judge refused to allow Curley even a few days to handle some pending city matters. He said Curley could take up such things as that "with his keepers."

Des Moines Flood Cracks New Hole In Protective Levee

DES MOINES (AP)—Raging flood waters of the Des Moines River cracked a new hole two blocks long in a levee guarding a residential district today.

Fire Chief Charles Slade said water was pouring through the levee in an "absolute torrent." He added that it was impossible to get trucks into the area and it was necessary for workmen to go afoot with sandbags and try to stem the flooding.

Residents in the area had been warned earlier to leave their homes and it was assumed all had reached safety before the break occurred.

David Liddle, Red Cross disaster director, said an estimated 1,800 persons had been evacuated from a half dozen danger spots in this Iowa capital city of 170,000.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today rejected pleas from member unions for a general strike in protest against the new Taft-Hartley Labor Union Control law.

The labor leader called presidents of the A.F.L.'s 105 unions to a conference in Washington, July 9.

Green told reporters, after an emergency meeting with members of the A.F.L.'s influential executive council that he thought it "unwise and inadvisable" to bow to telegrams and letters from unions throughout the nation asking that a general strike be called.

"Instead, we are going to fight the measure in courts and seek to maintain our rights under the bill in negotiations with employers," Green said.

The A.F.L. will organize politically "with the purpose of defeating every member of Congress who voted for this terrible legislation."

Passage of the new law, enacted over President Truman's veto, has "emphasized" the need for unity of labor.

He expressed the opinion that its passage has hastened moves toward merger of the C.I.O. and A.F.L., adding that further meetings on consolidation of the two big labor groups possibly will be held in the near future—although none is scheduled at the moment.

By Associated Press

Meanwhile work stoppages in United States coal fields in protest against the new labor law and a strike at 10 east coast shipyards in a dispute over wages boosted to more than 262,000 the number made idle today as wildcat strikes appeared to gain rather than lose momentum.

Curtailed operations in steel mills and railroads and other coal-using industries resulted in layoffs of an unestimated number of workers.

More than half of the United States' 400,000 soft coal miners—an estimated 222,000—were away from their jobs, most of them in protest against the Hartley-Taft labor law. Others said they were jumping the gun on the 10-day mine vacation which starts at midnight Friday.

Railroads in Birmingham, Ala., began laying off trainmen on coal runs Wednesday.

Alabama, where the walkouts first started on Monday, reported all of its 20,000 miners idle.

LOSS ESTIMATED

The Federal Coal Mines Administration placed the tonnage loss at 1,189,119 tons, about half the daily normal output of 2,000,000 tons.

In Utah, the Geneva Steel Co. was cutting production to conserve coal. Half of the state's 4,000 miners were idle.

Pennsylvania led the list of 11 coal-producing states in the number idle with 64,200. Kentucky counted 35,000 out; Illinois, 18,000; Virginia, 11,000; Tennessee, 5,000; Ohio, 10,933; Indiana, 6,721; Utah, 2,000; and Colorado, 184.

Most of the idle were United Mine Workers (A.F.L.) in the soft coal fields, but they included 3,200 A.F.L. anthracite miners in eastern Pennsylvania and 1,700 members of the Progressive Mine Workers' Union (Ind.) in Illinois.

The U.M.W. apparently was making only scattered efforts to get the men back.

SHIPYARDS IDLE

A strike of more than 40,000 repair and construction workers in 10 shipyards on the east coast, nine of them owned by the Bethlehem Steel Company, was called today by the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (C.I.O.).

The strike, stopping work on more than 60 vessels, resulted from a deadlock in negotiations for renewal of contracts that ended at midnight Wednesday night.

John Green, union president, said the company had made no counter offer on union demands, which included a 13-cent hourly wage increase and other contract benefits.

A company spokesman said the present base rate of $1.38 for mechanics, boosted to an average of $1.53 by "overtime, incentive pay and other factors," was to blame for a current decline in U.S. shipbuilding.

"British yards have 1,000 ships building or ordered. There is a world boom in shipbuilding in which American yards are not participating," he said. "The plight of the industry is due to high costs and these are due to high wage rates."

TELEGRAPHIC PRESIDENT

Green said he had sent telegrams to President Truman and Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep., Ohio), co-sponsor of the new labor bill, charging that all shipbuilding companies are violating a seven-year-old labor-management-government agreement to air contract differences before the Shipbuilding Stabilization Board.

In other labor developments the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) in Detroit summoned its executive board to a meeting next Tuesday to decide on a policy in the strike of Ford foremen.

In St. Louis, Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann said he would urge the Missouri State Legislature to reconvene and pass legislation to revive the city's transportation, which has been paralyzed for two weeks by a strike. A similar strike in Oakland, Calif., was in its third week with no immediate indications of settlement. Meat packing operations at Omaha's Union Stockyards were curtailed by a continued strike of 4,255 C.I.O. livestock handlers.

Vote Light On Schools By-law

Voting on the school building by-law in Oak Bay and Esquimalt was comparatively light today, officials at the two municipal hall's reported.

Oak Bay officials stated that the vote was not nearly as heavy as it had been last Thursday when the transportation franchise was being voted. However, they anticipated that between 5 and 8 this evening it would pick up as many come in to cast their votes on their way home from work.

In Esquimalt it was reported that there was a slow but steady trickle of voters coming in. There, too, it was expected that there would be a heavier poll during the last three hours of voting.

At the close of the polls all ballot boxes will be sealed and not counted until after 8 Saturday evening, when Saanich polls close.

Ask Curb On Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Congress of Industrial Organizations today asked Congress for immediate action to prevent "collapse of our economy." It declared that thus far "there has not been a single step" to check rising living costs.

Associated Boards Favor Extension To Establish National Ocean Park

By STAFF CORRESPONDENT
COURTENAY—Seven resolutions concerning the welfare and development of Vancouver Island were passed by the delegates of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at the main session of their 29th annual convention which was held Wednesday in the Elks' Hall.

The resolutions concerned the extension of the limits of Strathcona Park, the improvement of mail service to upper island
areas, the extension of the Island Highway to Tofino, improved forest fire protection, the prohibiting of trawls inside B.C.
coastal waters and the encouragement of immigration.

In presenting the resolution asking for the extension of Strathcona Park, George H. Ben-well, president of the Nanaimo Board of Trade, stated: "If the Strathcona Park area and the Forbidden Plateau are considered as one park and together
extended to Wickaninnish Bay (Long Beach) we will have a park which will have no equal."

The resolution was passed unanimously and representation will now be made to the provincial government to enter into negotiations with the Dominion government to see if this area cannot be turned into a national ocean park.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE

The delegates also passed a resolution calling for greater dispatch of mail service on the island. Representation will be made to the Postmaster-General to see if letters, posted on the island in the morning or arriving from the mainland in the morning, can be delivered in business hours that afternoon, and if letters, posted after noon on the island or arriving from the mainland after noon can be delivered the following day within business hours. Many complaints of present service were made by delegates from the island's central areas.

Two resolutions were passed concerning forestry, the first giving support to the provincial government for their attempts to place the lumber industry on a sustained yield basis, and the second calling for a greater allocation of provincial funds for forest fire protection.

TOFINO ROAD REVIVED

The convention again passed a resolution requesting the provincial government to extend the island highway to Tofino on the west coast. The preamble of the resolution pointed out that if the west coast was opened it would play an important part in the economic life of the province and would provide another great tourist playground on the island.

The request for such a road has been submitted many times before and was referred to by many delegates as the "annual resolution."

A resolution calling for the prohibition of the use of trawls within B.C. coastal waters met the unanimous approval of the delegates. It was pointed out that the trawls were proving destructive to immature fish and plant life.

The resolution asks that the use of trawls be prohibited until such time as natural restocking has taken place to permit moderate and controlled fishing by this means.

OPEN DOOR POLICY

A resolution submitted by the Port Alberni favoring an open door policy to healthy, law-abiding persons desirous of contributing to the prosperity and well being of Canada was accepted.

The resolution calls for the federal government to give every encouragement to persons seeking absorption into Canadian ways of life.

Three resolutions calling for the construction of breakwaters at Qualicum, Tofino and Campbell River were considered by the resolutions committee as local problems and, upon the committee's recommendation, these were dropped from the agenda to be referred to the executive committee for study and action.

A resolution submitted by the Nanaimo Board of Trade, calling for the B.C. government to earmark all revenue produced by the three-cent gasoline tax for the construction and maintenance of roads, was tabled until next year when the amount of road expenditures and the amount of the tax would be available for study.

A resolution asking for the establishment of a Provincial Road Commission was withdrawn
when two M.L.A. delegates, W. T.
Straith, Victoria, and H. J. Welch, Comox, informed the meeting that there was already a road
"committee" in operation. "It would only mean a change of name if this resolution was passed and accepted," Mr. Straith said.

While on the subject of roads,
Mr. Straith informed the meeting that the main reason for bad stretches of highway at the present time was a shortage of manpower.

"Works Minister E. C. Carson has $35,000,000 to spend during the next few years for improvements to our highways but he cannot spend it because he can get no men to work," Mr. Straith
said.

The last resolution of the meeting established a new committee of the Associated Boards of Trade to co-ordinate and assist the various boards of trade in promoting the tourist trade.

MECCA OF NORTHWEST

J. V. Johnson, retiring president of the A.B.T.V.I., outlined the progress of the year in his annual report and stated that much could be done within the next few years "to make Vancouver Island the Mecca of the great Pacific Northwest."

Mr. Johnson reminded the delegates that the island's boards of trade must work together for the good of the island rather than for the benefit of their own individual communities.
Norman Teskey, Courtenay,
chairman of the auditing committee, reported that the financial status of the A.B.T.V.I. was in sound condition.

Following the business session,
delegates were taken by bus to Campbell River to inspect the new power development of the B.C. Power Commission.

they had gained during their years at Sacred Heart School.
The exercises opened with the hymn "O Cor Jesu" and closed with the beautiful "Tota Pulchra

Largest Forest Ranger Building In B.C. Now At Parksville

PARKSVILLE—Largest forest ranger building in the province is now open here in charge of R. J. Glassford who has been with the B.C. Forest Service for 21 years.

The station will serve the area between Nanossee and Fanny Bay a distance of 41 miles by highway and the territory between the east coast and the summit of the island range.

A radio transmission set is included in the equipment and there are three offices, a big tool cache and in addition more storage space for fire-fighting materials upstairs.

A fire-suppression crew of eight men under D'Arcy Dendy, foreman, is housed in five prefabricated huts. There are also a combined cookhouse and dining-room and a four-car garage.

The new station takes the place of the one-room office at Qualicum Beach formerly occupied by forest service men in the district.

Mr. Glassford joined the forest service at Gibson's Landing and served at Pender Harbor, Lund and Sechart before being moved to Qualicum seven years ago.

His staff includes Reg. Morrison and Pete Rawlins, both assistant rangers, and Jimmy Phillips, dispatcher.

Biologist Reports On Whales' Love Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Raymond Gilmore, United States government expert on the love life of the whale, issued his report today.

His verdict: Some have a lot. Some don't have any. It all depends.

Dr. Gilmore, biologist for the Fish and Wildlife Service, made his report for the Smithsonian Institution after his trip with the U.S. Navy's Antarctic Expedition.

Bachelors everywhere will find the study sad reading. It seems that sperm whales are polygamous. One or two males of this species will collect a bunch of good looking cow whales and set up seakeeping in tropical or sub-tropical waters.

This leaves quite a few male whales with nothing much to do but go down to the Antarctic and sulk. Which they do.

"The Antarctic bulls," the Smithsonian says, "presumably are animals which have been unable to find a place for themselves in harems."

"In many cases they may be old animals who have been ousted by stronger young bulls. For these the Antarctic waters serve as a sort of 'old bulls' summer home'."

The U.S. government takes an unromantic view of a whale suffering from unrequited love. As far as the government is concerned, a male whale which can't be caught by a female may as well be caught by whalers.

England Wins Test By 10 Wickets

LONDON (CP) — In a half-hour second innings session, England Wednesday hit the necessary 26 runs to defeat South Africa by 10 wickets in the second cricket test match at Lords.

Earlier the South Africans had been dismissed for 252 in their second innings. With a first-innings showing of 237 as against England's 554 for eight declared, South Africa's combined innings totals left England only 26 points to get for victory.

A Hutton-Washbrook partnership did the job nicely in half an hour, for no wickets lost.

Committed For Trial

Race Feeling Strong In Quebec

Concern over the strong racial feeling existing in Quebec Province was expressed by Brooke Stephenson, president of the Victoria Real Estate Board, at a meeting of the board held at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

The Union Jack and the Red Ensign were no longer being flown over public buildings or churches, according to Mr. Stephenson, who gave an account of his recent trip to eastern Canada.

"I noticed that a red, green and white flag with a Maple Leaf in the centre was being flown from nearly every building," he said. "When I asked what it represented I was told it was the Canadian flag or the French-Canadian flag."

"To top it all," said Mr. Stephenson, "I was told by a French Canadian that this province was no longer being called British Columbia but 'Canadian Columbia.'"

Mr. Stephenson said that large numbers of French Canadians were moving out west, and their numbers were particularly noticeable in Winnipeg.

"It may do them good to move out of their province," he said, "but it has me worried."

THE MARSHALL PLAN IN PARIS

WHEN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS OF Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union sit down together to discuss proposals for European recovery on lines set forth by United States Secretary of State Marshall at Harvard last June 5 they will begin their deliberations with an important advantage: They know one another intimately. Neither is afraid to speak his mind. Mr. Bevin is just as blunt as Mr. Molotov is inscrutable, while the sartorially elegant Mr. Bidault has that charm of manner which he adroitly combines with a typical French capacity for compromise. Knowing one another's technique, therefore, no time should be wasted in the futile and senseless exercise of sparring for position. All three have had ample time to digest the American aid-with-self-help offer.

Because of the far-reaching importance of this Paris meeting, and for the reason that its outcome may conceivably change the course of history—for good or evil—it is fitting to recall the basic proposal which General Marshall enunciated in his Harvard address. Here is part of it:

"It is already evident that, before the United States Government can proceed much further in its efforts to alleviate the situation and help start the European world on its way to recovery, there must be some agreement among the countries of Europe as to the requirements of the situation and the part these countries themselves will take in order to give proper effect to whatever action might be undertaken by the Government. It would neither be fitting nor efficacious for this Government to undertake to draw up unilaterally a program designed to place Europe on its feet economically. This is the business of the Europeans. The initiative, I think, must come from Europe. . . . The role of this country should consist of friendly aid in the drafting of a European program and of later support of such a program so far as it may be practical for us to do so. The program should be a joint one, agreed to by a number, if not all European nations."

Great Britain promptly welcomed the Marshall proposal—not as a suppliant, but mainly because it seemed to show her one way to relieve herself of some of the obligations in respect of continental European affairs to meet which has become an almost unbearable economic burden. Her friendly neighbors across the North Sea similarly acquired new hope. And those leaders in Germany who are sincere in their desire to build a new Reich that will be entitled to take its place in peaceful and progressive society will have derived satisfaction from the Harvard pronouncement. It now remains to be seen what instructions Mr. Molotov has received from the Politburo in Moscow.

The organs of the Communist Party did not take long to make up their editorial minds that the American proposal for continental Europe was little better than an excuse for the United States to "meddle" in affairs that did not concern her. Pravda and Izvestia and journals of lesser official standing are consistent in their treatment of the hopes and plans of the western nations. Regardless of the fact, however, that they print only what the Kremlin permits them to print, it is obvious that in respect of the prime business of the Paris meeting Mr. Molotov will require to comport himself with meticulous circumspection. Always provided, of course, that he is not the bearer of tidings from Prime Minister Stalin that foredoom the conference to failure before it begins. All friends of the Soviet Union, and those nations that are genuinely seeking her assistance and co-operation in a herculean task, will hope that before the three Foreign Ministers conclude their deliberations a new era of reason will have dawned. Russia has much to gain from such a result; she will lose much if she persists in her strange and dangerous conduct.

COURAGE AND DETERMINATION

AS AN EXAMPLE OF DETERMINATION to overcome handicaps, the efforts of a group of Victoria blind to learn to swim will attract genuine commendation. A half dozen of the community's sightless citizens are now undergoing instruction, and reports from those who are assisting them indicate they will achieve at least some degree of proficiency in the water.

The entry into the field of athletic participation by those who cannot see is not new. Tournaments are held for blind bowlers. Other games have attracted those similarly afflicted. In the case of swimming, the teaching difficulties are accentuated. Visual demonstrations, so valuable in conveying to the student the mechanics of various strokes, cannot be employed.

Even without them, however, some progress was made at the initial session of the local class. Should the beginners manage to gain some competence in the water, their sphere of activities and interests would be expanded considerably. More important, their self-confidence—an essential to those without sight—would be given a substantial boost.

IN GOOD SHAPE

FIGURES RELEASED TODAY BY THE federal Department of Labor indicate a healthy condition in the employment situation of this country, with considerable gains over last year and only 10,000 more unemployed men and women than jobs. In a population of some 12,000,000, this represents a very small proportion of surplus labor. The picture is more complicated than the figure would suggest, of course, since in any given locality there may be unemployed who are not fitted to accept the jobs available. There may be unemployed salesmen where miners or lumbermen are required; there may be stenographers out of work where teachers or nurses are needed. But the overall national picture is a very promising one.

The department's report reveals that at mid-June there were 118,000 unemployed applicants registered with the National Employment Service—a little more than one-half of the total a year ago. Against this were 108,000 jobs waiting for workers. In British Columbia there were 15,000 unemployed applicants and 8,000 jobs open, and the report adds that skilled miners are in urgent demand.

Although some of the high employment rate comes as a result of seasonal demand, which will occasion a tapering-off and reconversion at a later date, the national totals would seem to give an effective answer to those who assert that this country is unable to support a larger population in the form of immigrants. Particularly when it is recalled that the increased population would itself create more jobs, it is obvious that Canada is still the land of opportunity and enterprise.

THEY HAVE AN EXAMPLE

ONLY THE MOST MEAGRE OF DETAILS are included in the report of representations made by the Congress of Industrial Organizations to the United States Congress for action to prevent "collapse of our economy." The item from Washington carrying that news merely elaborates the request with the statement from the C.I.O. that thus far "there has not been a single step" to check rising living costs.

It will be recalled that the Textile Workers' Union, a C.I.O. organization containing 90,000 members, took positive action to avoid skyrocketing prices recently by acknowledging the inadvisability of making higher wage demands in order to permit capital that might otherwise have gone into pay increases to be used for rehabilitation and expansion of plant. It will be remembered, also, that other groups within the C.I.O. jurisdiction have reached amicable settlement of wage issues. But it can scarcely be said that all unions within that organization have followed the same line. What the labor forces and government of the United States do to stabilize or reduce the cost of living in that country is, of course, a matter of American concern. The influence of any action that may be taken, however, is bound to be felt in Canada, if for no other reason than the existence of affiliations with labor bodies in this Dominion. A positive lead like that given by the Textile Workers' Union, if applied to labor forces in the woods, could relieve British Columbia of a great deal of anxiety over the outlook for its forest industry.

No one will challenge the right of the C.I.O. to address itself to the United States Congress in the manner reported. It is its business. But it would be encouraging to those who have the economic interests of this Dominion at heart, for example, if the C.I.O. lent more emphasis to an approach along Textile Workers' lines to a problem continent-wide in its application than to the more familiar call for higher wages, shorter hours, and lower living costs.

WITH PICK AND COMPASS

IT IS SATISFACTORY TO NOTE THAT nearly half of the 78 residents of British Columbia who so far this year have been granted prospectors' grubstakes under the provincial government scheme are war veterans. No section of our population can have done more to merit a "stake" in their efforts to find new wealth in this province than the men who were willing to undertake a much more dangerous and serious enterprise overseas in order to safeguard our country's possessions.

The men go into the wilds knowing that for only a few will the season's work produce a prospect. For many the labor will go for naught, and there will be no gain but experience. But there is wealth to be found by the persevering, and the added public benefit that in aiding his own fortunes the prospector is assisting in the development of the province. To all who engage in this work, be they veterans or tenderfoot, civilians or returned servicemen, the greeting is: "Good hunting!"

MISGUIDED ENERGY

IT IS NOT A CANADIAN HABIT to mill around in the streets and register disapproval by hanging effigies in public demonstrations. For this reason the people of this country and this area will have no sympathy with those paraders who last Sunday in Nanaimo marched through the city with a replica of a gallows from which was suspended a copy of the recent provincial labor act—Bill No. 39. There are ways and means provided under our democratic system for the dignified and effective registration of opinion on any public matter. The immature and foolish exhibition at Nanaimo is not one of them.

The Marshall Policy

By WICKHAM STEED

THE CONTINENT of Europe and, in some degree, the greater part of the world are now faced with a critical choice. One aspect of the choice is economic. Another is political. For some months past it has been evident that sooner or later great decisions, involving the possibility of recovery from the havoc of war years, would have to be taken. Public statements by several prominent leaders of opinion in the United States have suggested the necessity for the United States itself of a policy designed to foster world recovery. But not until the Secretary of State, Mr. George Marshall, spoke at Harvard University on June 5 had the urgency of such a policy been made plain.

Secretary Marshall's speech was an act of constructive statesmanship. It proposed that the United States should assist European countries to recover from the havoc of war if all, or some, European nations will work out a plan to meet their economic and financial needs and will join together in executing the plan. In substance, Secretary Marshall proposes that the United States should revive the lend-lease principle, which placed the resources of the United States at the service of European Allies in 1941, and should revive it for purposes of reconstruction—not for war and destruction.

ONE VIRTUE of this generous offer is that its acceptance would serve the interests of the United States no less than those of Europe. European impoverishment, due to destruction and dislocation in two world wars within 30 years, has rendered European countries dependent on the goods and services of North America which must be paid for in dollars. But the only supply of dollars now available in Europe has been provided in the form of loans by the United States and in some degree by Canada. Thanks to these loans the producers of food and industrial products in North America, especially in the United States, have hitherto been able to sell foodstuffs and manufactures to Europe. But these loans are now within sight of exhaustion. So the manufacturers and food growers in the United States wonder how Europe will be able to buy their produce when no more dollars are available, and the European countries wonder how they themselves can live without supplies from the United States.

Secretary Marshall's offer is intended gradually to solve both these problems—to save the United States from an economic crisis brought about by over-production of unsaleable goods, and Europe from paralyzing distress or even hunger. The one condition, is that some, if not all, European nations should join in putting forward a plan to cover their minimum needs. The ultimate purpose of the offer is not to alleviate distress temporarily by individual loans to individual countries, but to create conditions for the revival of healthy production and trade, and thus to restore the economic health of the world.

CAN SOME, IF NOT ALL, European countries thus join in helping the United States to help them? Will Soviet Russia, and the States of Central and Southeastern Europe that lie within the Russian "security zone," link up with Western Europe so that all may benefit by the Marshall offer? Or will Soviet Russia regard that offer as another attempt to create a block of Western European States against Russian Communism?

To these questions no positive answer can yet be given. Russian resentment of the "Truman policy" of giving aid to Greece and Turkey and the steps recently taken to strengthen Communist control of Hungary, Romania, and Bulgaria, hardly suggest willingness to accept the Marshall policy. The United Kingdom Government, on the other hand, is known to look with favor upon the Marshall policy and to be anxious that the European nations should co-operate. Politically it is by no means certain that the Communist parties, even in western countries like France and Italy, will favor such co-operation.

THIS IS WHY ONE aspect of the choice before Europe and a great part of the world is economic while another is political. A further aspect relates to the question whether Germany is or is not to be treated as an economic unit. Even should Germany remain divided between the Western Powers and Soviet Russia, some revival of trade and industry will be indispensable in zones under British, United States and French occupation. In the same way on the other side of the world, some revival of Japanese industry and trade will be needed to meet the world shortage of consumer goods. If the Marshall policy were adopted for Europe, an extension of it to the Far East might be required to foster world recovery.

Europeans are not qualified to judge whether and how far opinion in the United States will support the Marshall policy. In Britain's opinion that policy seems the sounder because it is not inspired solely by idealism divorced from material interests, but aims at world recovery from which the United States also would profit. Without some such policy it is felt that an economic "crisis" might eventually culminate in another world conflict.

PERSONALLY I think the Marshall policy especially wise because it would tend to place in the service of peace the lend-lease principle which President Roosevelt applied to the conduct of war. And I believe that the United Kingdom Government will endeavor to promote agreement among European nations so that the main condition of Marshall's offer may be fulfilled,

Henry's Challenger In The Big Fight

Farley On Roosevelt And Wallace

PRESIDENT Franklin D. Roosevelt dismissed Henry A. Wallace as Democratic presidential timber as early as 1938, James A. Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, reveals in a signed article in Collier's magazine.

In the second of a series of five articles in the national weekly on his political friendship and break with the late President, Farley reports that Roosevelt, in a White House conversation two years prior to the third term campaign, favored Harold Ickes, then Secretary of the Interior, over Wallace as a presidential candidate.

"Henry (Wallace) would like to run for President," Roosevelt said slowly," Farley writes. "However, I'd rather have a fellow like Ickes, who, at least is a fighter. Ickes will go through with whatever he has in mind. But you never know what Henry will do. He's in favor of one thing today and something entirely different tomorrow."

ROOSEVELT MISGIVINGS

Farley discloses that Roosevelt had many misgivings at that time about a number of his cabinet members, including Ickes, and about several other national political figures.

"I think Harold Ickes is responsible for many of the stories that leak out of cabinet meetings," Farley quotes the President as saying.

Farley says the President asked his opinion of Paul McNutt, who became a candidate for the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination, and that he (Farley) recalled that McNutt had opposed Roosevelt's nomination in 1932. The President then dropped the subject without comment.

Both Herbert Lehman, then Governor of New York, and Fiorello H. La Guardia, then mayor of New York City, were subjected to criticism by the President as potential Democratic candidates for the governorship of New York, Farley reports.

Soldier For Peace

IT IS two years and one week since General Dwight Eisenhower returned from victory in Europe to the greatest welcome ever accorded an American hero in Washington. In the intervening months many suggestions have been advanced over means by which a devoted nation could demonstrate its affection for the man. He has been variously recommended for high political office and for numerous other posts in which his unique organizing ability, his aptness of touch and his unusual proficiency in presenting democratic principles could be utilized to a major degree.

From the various proposals which have been set forth, he has chosen the presidency of Columbia University. Nor should it appear surprising that he has selected this field for his future activities. Not only will it afford him the opportunity to make his influence felt upon an exceptionally large number of students—future leaders in the affairs of his own country and the world—but it will enable him to follow one of this continent's distinguished molders of thought, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler.

These are characteristics admirably suited for a president of Columbia University, developed under the Butler guidance to a cosmopolitan institution which, with affiliates, counted a student body which even 20 years ago had reached a total of 36,600. It is a happy circumstance which gives to that important educational centre a man of Eisenhower's capacities. To Dr. Butler, champion of the liberal faith, staunch supporter of the cause of peace, recognized leader in international thought, the appointment must come with great satisfaction. In General of the Army Eisenhower, Columbia has found a man who can expand these concepts, through the expression of which the president emeritus brought added lustre to a great centre of learning. And here is a man whose first-hand knowledge of war and revolution against it will stimulate his colleagues and students to new efforts to avert another international tragedy.—A.H.S.

It should require little effort on the part of "Ike" Eisenhower, the erstwhile man of war, to lay aside the martial baton and don the gown. The fact that he was first and foremost a soldier when the Allied forces called upon him for leadership served only to emphasize his talents for administration and his deep appreciation of the humanities and their potentialities for developing international understanding. His record is that of a staunch supporter of a liberal education, the value of which he so clearly indicated in his address last year at the University of Toronto convocation. Moreover, his internationalism, the clarity with which he saw the need for eliminating frictions between peoples of the world, brings him well within the orbit of the line of thought stimulated by Dr. Butler.

'When Paramountcy Lapses'

Indian Information

THE NIZAM of Hyderabad has declared that when paramountcy lapses, he will become entitled to "resume the status of an independent sovereign."

In a "firman" (edict) of recent date the Nizam says that Hyderabad will not join either of the two Constituent Assemblies for Hindustan or Pakistan. The Nizam's government, the "firman" adds, will endeavor to reach a working agreement with both units on all matters of common interest for the mutual benefit of all.

DOUBLE AFFINITIES

Stating that his subjects have affinities and common interest with both contemplated new unions, the Nizam says: "By sending representatives to either Constituent Assemblies, Hyderabad would seem to be taking one side or the other. I am sure that I am safeguarding the best interests of my subjects by declining to take such a course."

The decision of Travancore to declare itself independent on August 15 has been announced by the Dewan (Premier), Sir C. P. Ramaswami Aiyar. Appealing to the people for support at a press conference, he said that sovereignty was "a matter of life and death for the state." The Dewan said that as far as His Highness the Maharaja was concerned, he was "prepared for any risk."

SOVEREIGNTY IN PEOPLE

The assertion that any ruler declaring his state independent "will, by such act, express hostility not only to the Indian Union but to his own people," is made by the Standing Committee of the All-India States Peoples Conference in a resolution, which adds that on the lapse of paramountcy, "sovereignty will reside in the people of the States and the Princes can only be constitutional rulers." The resolution urges that, in the event of any state refusing to join the Constituent Assembly, the latter should allow the people of such a state to elect their own representatives to the Assembly. By another resolution, the Committee desires that so long as states are not sufficiently democratized, the administrative functions of paramountcy should continue to be exercised by the Interim Government of India.

TOO INFLUENTIAL FOR IGNORANCE

Ottawa Journal

Teachers, of all people, need a cultural and literary background, because outside the home they are the first contacts of boys and girls with the great world and all its vast experience and learning. If the teacher is, in cultural things, an ignorant, has no taste for things of the spirit nor any knowledge of the arts or of the treasures of literature, those children are away to a bad start.

DICTATOR DIFFICULTIES
Montreal Star
One of the difficulties of being a dictator is that somebody is always trying to get rid of you—either the people who suffer under your ministrations, or the men around you, presumably loyal but more often than not consumed by dictatorial ambitions of their own. In no circumstances can the issue be put directly to the electorate. They might decide against dictatorship and there is nothing quite so pitiful as a dictator out of a job—pitiful because he is probably dead.

Letters

SCHOOL URGENTLY NEEDED
May I, through your column, suggest to the residents of Cadboro Bay, Queenswood, and adjoining Gordon Head that they give every support to the forthcoming School By-law. At the present time over 60 children are transported every day four and five miles to Cedar Hill.

A school in Cadboro Bay is an urgent necessity so that small children particularly will not have to wait in all kinds of weather for buses.

An excellent site is at present held under option and if this was lost it would not be possible to obtain another without buying in residences and ultimately demolishing them, which is a costly process.

The by-law, I hope, will receive every support as schools are just as vital as any public utility service.

AILEEN F. B. FOSTER
(Mrs. W. R. Foster).

VIEW ROYAL'S CHANCE
In the school by-law voting today, View Royal has an opportunity it should not pass up.

Over 100 children will get a school near them. A costly transportation charge will be overcome and the local residents will have an excellent centre for community welfare programs.

Instead of a costly bus charge, the by-law will save the taxpayers of View Royal for the carrying charges on the by-law are considerably less than transportation.

I'm all for the by-law—50 cents on the dollar; we will never get a better opportunity.

S. T. MORROW.
Ratepayers' Association chairman. 340 Island Highway.

BY-LAW DESERVES TO PASS
For some years I have watched small children, many of them just little tots, in Cadboro Bay waiting, often in wet and inclement weather, for buses to take them to the school at Cedar Hill. Sitting around in wet things is, to say the least, not conducive to good health.

A school in Cadboro Bay for the children of the village, Ten Mile Point, Queenswood and the adjacent area is certainly needed. The school by-law deserves every support. It will be worth the very slight extra cost in the health of the children alone.

Hole-In-One Contest Aided This Boy

Dr. Jack Mercer, president of the Gyro Club; Donald Clare and Bud Hocking, in charge of hole-in-one contest.

Donald Clare, now 16, who lives at 3155 Donald Street, was injured when playing football and had to spend two years in the Solarium. Then he weighed 74 pounds, but on his discharge from the Solarium in July of last year he tipped the beam at 140 pounds.

Donald is a great supporter of the Solarium and of the Hole-in-One contest which is conducted annually by the Gyro Club to raise funds to aid in the operation of the institution.

"The Solarium fixed me up and I am very grateful," says Donald. "I'm glad there are people like the Gyros who do things to make sure that the Solarium stays open so that crippled children can be made better."

WANTS TO BE ENGINEER
Donald is attending Victoria High School and has an ambition to be an electrical engineer. While in the Solarium he made model airplanes.

The Gyros will conduct their ninth hole-in-one contest for four nights next week at the Central Junior High School grounds, beginning on Wednesday and continuing until Saturday.

The Gyros usually raised around $7,000 at this event, all of which is presented to the Solarium.

Dr. Jack Mercer, president of the club, today issued the following statement asking for the support of the public:

"This year the Gyro Club again invites the citizens of Victoria to attend the annual Carnival and Hole-in-One Contest being held in Central Junior High School grounds July 2, 3, 4 and 5.

"During the past seven years this event has become a popular attraction to both young and old, where fun and games and the novel golf competition may be enjoyed and at the same time the funds collected make a worthwhile contribution to the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

"To date over $25,000 has been donated through this annual carnival. This year the Gyro Club of Victoria has pledged itself to finance an addition to the Solarium which is to cost $40,000.

"I again ask the people of Victoria to come to the carnival and have fun with us and help us make this year's undertaking a real success."

Hemisphere Defence Co-operation Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Hoy S. Vandenberg, deputy commanding general of the United States Army Air Forces, said today the "peace and security of North and South America depends on a 'complete integration of efforts of the air forces of all the countries.'"

He urged the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee to approve legislation authorizing the United States government to co-operate with other western hemisphere countries, especially Canada, in a military standardization program which would include supplying them with arms.

Vancouver's Statue Gets New Gold Coat

Having made do with his coat since 1920, far longer than most people, Capt. George Vancouver looks down from his perch on the main dome of the Legislative Buildings today wearing a bright new raiment of gold.

Responsible for outfitting the figure of the 18th century explorer was Stanley Milovitch, steeplejack, who scaled up to the statue 145 feet above the ground to do his beautifying.

The $275 job consisted of a wash and brushing, then the application of a yellow foundation, followed by a layer of luxurious gold paint, with a final covering of plastic to protect the brilliance of the statue's new coat.

Oak Bay Cool To Request To Help Coldharbor Home

A proposal that Oak Bay share with other municipalities the cost of operating the new juvenile foster home at 1527 Coldharbor Road for care of children coming before the Juvenile Court was tabled for further consideration at a meeting of Oak Bay Council Wednesday night.

The share-the-cost proposal was submitted by a delegation consisting of Ald. Margaret D. Christie, chairman of the inter-municipal committee, Miss Rae Kirkendall, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, and Councillor George Rudd of Saanich.

Ald. Christie explained that the city had bought the home and Saanich had agreed to pay its share for operating the institution.

More than 30 children were locked up in the city jail because of the lack of proper accommodation last year, she said in expressing the hope that Oak Bay would agree to share expenses in the interest of children's welfare.

Miss Kirkendall said Victoria had purchased the home for $8,500 and that $1,000 had been spent on furnishings, all of which was donated by clubs and individuals residing in Greater Victoria.

If Oak Bay agreed to share the cost of operation its share on the 10 per cent basis would be $850 towards the cost of the property and a monthly payment of $16.50, she said.

"If we can start children on the road to good citizenship the foster home is worth our while," pleaded Councillor Rudd.

Mr. Rudd appealed to the councillors to consider the matter, for as he said: "It is in our interest to see that children are led to be good citizens."

"If the city bought the property why does it not want to pay for the whole cost of operation," commented Reeve Walker as the proposal was tabled for further consideration.

Dispels Fear Of Disease Danger

Current rumors in Oak Bay that there was a danger of horses communicating to human beings the disease encephalomyelitis, or better known as "sleeping sickness," were dispelled in the report of W. P. Walker, medical health officer, which was submitted at Wednesday's meeting of Oak Bay Council.

After consulting Dr. Cull of the Board of Health, and Dr. Gunn of the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Walker said he had come to the conclusion that it was a doubtful matter whether the virus causing the disease in horses was transmissible to humans under any ordinary circumstances.

"If it be possible at all," said Mr. Walker, "it could only occur as a result of a bite."

Another way the disease might occur was for the animal to breathe into a man's face, he said.

But according to Mr. Walker there was no cause for worry as he had been informed that there was no known cases of sleeping sickness existing among horses in the province at the present time.

Operating Field For Model Planes Sought

Boys of the model plane building class of Oak Bay Community Centre are having a hard time finding a place to fly their motorized model planes.

In a letter to the Oak Bay Council they complained of being ousted from Oak Bay High School grounds by the Greater Victoria School Board as the result of complaints that their planes were creating a disturbance. And they applied for permission to use the new park reserve, adjoining the Uplands, for practice purposes.

Councillors were sympathetic. "Why, the planes don't make any more noise than a drone of bees," commented Councillor George Murdoch. "We should do all we can to encourage this healthy sport."

The council decided to look into the matter before taking action on the letter.

Oldest Quotarian On Assembly Line In War

Oldest member attending the Quota Club convention is Jenny O'Neill of Waterbury, Conn., who is 85 years of age and boasts that she "has only missed four conventions in 22 years."

Jenny O'Neill has many other claims to fame.

For 49 years she taught school and as an extra curricular duty today she is secretary of the Retired Teachers' of Connecticut, an association with 700 members.

"I'm going back home to make up their books just as soon as I'm through here," she tells you. This bright-eyed little woman, with pure white hair and the many laughter wrinkles that go with the experience of years, was not content to sit quietly in retirement during the war years. She went to work in a production plant near her home where they were making flare fuses.

"It was a military secret," she says seriously, "we had to be very quiet about about it."

At first it was part-time work and Jenny O'Neill didn't like that. She said she was wasting too much time between jobs.

So she talked her way into a position on the assembly line with 50 other women with an average age of 45.

"The man in charge said I'd last a month," she tells you with a chuckle, "but I lasted one year and eight months, right to the day the Japs surrendered."

Her work was to arrange the fuse in such a way that it would receive the screws easily. "I and I was told on my first day that I must not drop the fuse," she says with a twinkle, then adds, "so of course, the first one I touched, I dropped."

Her mouth sets determinedly, "but it was the last one."

Then, very quietly, but with more than a hint of pride in her voice, Jenny O'Neill explains that the assembly line where she was working turned out 15 fuses a minute. That's 6,000 a day. And she kept that up without a break, for 20 months.

Her hands, blue veined, a little wrinkled, but still well shaped, tell another story.

Local Veterans Hope For Price Cut On Homes From Ottawa

If no action is taken in the House of Commons on the cost of Veterans' Land Act homes when the estimates are brought down next week, Robert Knight, zone representative of the Canadian Legion, feels certain that Braefoot Estate veterans, supported by his organization and the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, will raise the issue again.

In view of this the veteran occupants of the V.L.A. homes at Braefoot are anxiously awaiting the estimates. In connection with the debate they are hoping for an announcement by Veterans' Minister Ian Mackenzie.

The local war veterans have been agitating for a price cut in their homes for a long time. While they aired their complaints to high officials of the V.L.A. and D.V.A. on visits here earlier in the year the Braefoot residents it failed to get a price reduction.

They want a 20 per cent reduction, claiming that due to faulty construction, they are not worth the prices set by the government.

While the remainder of the Braefoot tenants are "sitting tight" until after the estimates are brought down, one veteran and his family has moved from the scene. The others may follow suit if no action is forthcoming from Ottawa.

Sea Cadet Camp At Gambier Island To Open On June 30

Sea cadets in Victoria and elsewhere on Vancouver Island are looking forward to attending camp at Gambier Island, Howe Sound, which is scheduled to open June 30, along with 10 other cadet camps across Canada.

The camps operated by the Navy League in co-operation with naval service will train upwards of 7,500 boys between 15 and 18 years. Camp periods are two weeks and most of the camps will open from June 30 to the end of August.

The camp period for Victoria Sea Cadets is between August 3 and 19. They will also be joined by a contingent from Nanaimo.

From "Wakie, Wakie" in the morning until "Pipe Down, Lights Out" at night, there's always something doing. Early morning exercises, swimming, boating, adventuring in the woods and outdoor classes combine to create ravenous appetites and that's why mealtime is the best time of all. The next best time is when strong but tired bodies finally settle down for a night's dreamless sleep.

Sea Cadet camps are located in Mahone Bay, near Halifax; St. John River near Saint John, N.B.; Lake of Two Mountains, near Chazy, P.Q.; Minicog Island and Beausoleil Island, Georgian Bay, via Midland; Town Island, five miles from Kenora on The Lake of the Woods; Shepley Island, on the Saskatchewan River near Saskatoon; Cheshmere Lake, not far from Calgary; Lake Wabamun, in Northern Alberta, and Gambier Island.

No Bids Received On Forest Work

Views Bus System As Improvement To Downtown Traffic

Inspector John Blackstock, acting chief of police in the holiday absence of Chief John A. McLellan, Wednesday expressed the opinion that the eventual elimination of streetcars in favor of buses under the new transit franchise, will go a long way toward reducing the business area traffic congestion.

With the buses loading on the side of streets, the hazard to the people using the public transit system will be greatly reduced, as it will do away with passengers going to the centre of the street, he said.

The inspector further notes that with buses loading at the curb, motor traffic will be able to clear intersections without interference. Under the streetcar system all traffic is brought to a halt while loading and unloading is in progress, he said.

Spread of the bus network over a greater stretch of the downtown area will also reduce routes which circle Fort, Douglas, Yates and Government Streets or run along at least one of the streets, Inspector Blackstock said.

Former Rector Dies

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP)—Rev. William G. G. Dreyer, 83-year-old retired clergyman of the Church of England in Canada, died Wednesday. He was a former financial secretary of the Church of England Deaconess Home in Toronto and also financial secretary of the Diocese of Saskatchewan.

Councillor Quits Saanich Committee

"The reason why the letter was not sent was due to the fact the man in question applied for his license the day before and this was granted," commented Reeve E. C. Warren today on a situation in the municipality which has resulted in Councillor W. C. Kersey resigning from the transportation and light committee.

The Ward Six councillor pointed out that several weeks ago the committee, under the chairmanship of Councillor John Oliver, passed a resolution that an electrical contractor be advised by letter that he would be open to prosecution if he undertook any further electrical work in the municipality without first obtaining a permit to do so.

Councillor Kersey has resigned because that letter was never sent. The Reeve points out that the man contacted the clerk the next day regarding a license being issued to him. The man was referred to the electrical inspector and the permit was granted.

Giants Have New Murderer's Row

Johnny Mize, Walker Cooper and Willard Marshall, the thumping trio of New York's Giants, have been slugging enemy pitching at such a terrific rate that veteran observers have begun to compare them with the famous old murderers' row of New York Yankees.

At their current pace, Mize, Cooper and Marshall may finish one, two, three in the National League home run and runs-batted-in championship race. No other trio ever—not even the Ruth-Gehrig-Lazzeri powerhouse—achieved such a feat.

Ruth, Gehrig and Lazzeri wound up one, two, three in the home run parade in 1927 but could not repeat in the runs-batted-in race.

To date, Mize leads both majors with 19 home runs and 54 runs batted in. Cooper and Marshall are tied for second place in home runs with 14 apiece. Cooper also is runner-up in R.B.I.'s with 53 and Marshall is next with 52.

ROOKIES STARE

Rookies Harry Taylor and Johnny Jorgensen starred for Brooklyn who defeated the Pirates 6 to 2 in Pittsburgh for the 21st setback in the Bucs' last 26 games. Taylor limited the Pirates to seven hits in gaining his fifth victory while Jorgensen drove home five runs.

Frank Shea, the Yankees' star rookie righthander, hurled his third shutout and ninth win of the season when he limited Cleveland Indians to three hits as the Yankees won 3 to 0 at night.

Scoring four runs in the last half of the ninth, Cincinnati Reds came from behind to nip the Phillies 9 to 8 in a thriller at Cincinnati.

Detroit's slipping Tigers snapped a 10-game losing streak by scoring a 4 to 2 victory over the second-place Boston Red Sox, but reverted to their losing ways as the Sox took the second game of the doubleheader in Boston 4 to 3. Hal Newhouser, hard luck pitcher of the majors, won his seventh against eight losses for the Bengals. Dave Ferris outlasted Dizzy Trout in the nightcap.

The third-place Philadelphia Athletics turned back St. Louis Browns, winning 4 to 2 behind Toronto-born Dick Fowler.

Aces Edge Esquimalt Meat; Vets, Douglas Tire In Draw

Frank Kilshaw, former member of Esquimalt Meat Market, had little respect for his former teammates last night. The scrappy shortstop, playing his second game for Brentwood Aces after his transfer from the league leaders, slashed a single into left field in the first half of the ninth inning, driving home Wilson with a tie-breaking run to give Aces a 2 to 1 victory over the Lackiemens.

Until the winning run was produced, rival hurlers George Kinch of Esquimalt and Brian Sluggett of Brentwood had complete command of the game. Kinch gave up four hits while Sluggett was touched for six. It was Kinch himself who gave the Esquimalt nine the lead in the low scoring contest, cracking a long home run to left centre in the fourth inning.

Jim Turner tied the score in the seventh when he reached first on Rafferty's error, went to second on an infield-out, stole third and then catching the Esquimalt defence napping, pilfered home cleanly.

VETS-DOUGLAS TIRE TIE

Army and Navy Vets and Douglas Tire played to a 7 to 7 tie in the other senior A contest. Vets trailed 7 to 0 in the third inning but rallied for four runs in the sixth and three in the seventh to knot the count. Norm Martin, who relieved Al Majorki in the thirds for Vets, turned in the best hurling job of the night shutting out the Tiresmen for six innings.

B.C. Forest Products had Dodo McKay on the hill last night with the usual result. Foresters beat New Method 8 to 4. The game was halted momentarily when New Method threatened to walk off the field, but order was restored and the game resumed.

Superior Produce blasted Legion Bombers 29 to 2 in another men's senior B game. Veterans of France took over leadership of the juvenile boys' league by edging Lake Hill 14 to 11.

Softball Player, Coach, Suspended

For showing ungentlemanly conduct, H. Lee, playing manager of the senior B softball team, Superior Produce, was last night suspended for the remainder of the season by the executive of the Victoria and District Softball Association.

J. Sweeney, coach of the squad, was set down for three games, for the same offence.

Senior Softball Champions

Defeating Tillicum School 8 to 1 in the final, Wards captured the senior girls' softball championship of the Greater Victoria elementary schools. The North Ward nine had an undefeated record for the season. ## Fort Garry Captures Handicap At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fort Garry, four-year-old chestnut gelding from the K. and K. stable, Winnipeg, won the Western Canada Handicap with its $1,500-added purse at the eighth day of Polo Park's 14-day spring meeting Wednesday.

Fort Garry, running in a five-horse field, and ridden by Jockey Paul Bailey, went to the front from the gate in the mile and 70-yard route and was never headed. Hi-V-York finished second and So Black was third. The winner paid $6.50, $2.50 and $2.30 across the board. Time for the distance on a heavy track was 1:55 1-5.

The daily double of Lady Dester in the first and Feckless in the second returned $137.25. The Quinella, Sweet Wind and Jiblo paid $141.20.

Sheridan's Home Run Gives Seals Victory In 14th

It took them 14 innings to do it but the San Francisco Seals snatched second place from Oakland in the Coast League last night, defeating the Oaks 9 to 7. Their victory coupled with Sacramento's heavy-hitting win over Los Angeles, 6 to 5, trimmed the Angels' league lead to one game.

The hits were even-Stephen at 15-all in the Seals-Oaks battle, won when San Francisco's right-fielder Neil Sheridan walloped a home run in the 14th with pitcher Bob Joyce on first. It was Sheridan's 12th round-tripper this year.

Oakland turned up with five double plays, San Francisco had three.

Sacramento rattled the park with 14 hits in beating the Angels, who got 12. Cliff Chambers was the loser.

The Hollywood Stars let go a 13-hit attack against five Portland pitchers to beat the Beavers, 10 to 6.

Biologists Unable To Offer Plan To Wipe Out Jap Weed

Hopes of members of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and the inlet's professional guides for a method to rid the sport fishing waters of the troublesome Jap weed, were shattered today following receipt of a letter from R. E. Foerster, director of the Dominion Biological Station, Nanaimo, pertaining to the subject.

The station director's letter was a reply to an appeal sent by the anglers' secretary asking officials of the station if they could recommend a scheme to eliminate the weed.

"So far as we know, there is no way of eradicating this seaweed other than actually going out and removing it from the water.

"In due course the plants will break up and disappear for the balance of the season, but it will likely reappear next year," the director said.

He goes on to point out that any methods of eradication using involving chemicals would undoubtedly be harmful to other seaweeds, to marine life in the water and to fish and therefore could not be employed.

NO COMMERCIAL USE YET

"We have been hoping that someone would find some commercial use for this Japanese weed, but the long winter lay-off takes away the edge of their game and it takes at least a month in the spring to regain it."

GILLAM is particularly high on Lorne Main, 16-year-old Vancouver Lad, who at 15, was ranked 16th in the junior lists in the United States. "Lorne ranks with the top juniors in the U.S. I have played against him a few times, and he is good. He has a very good chance of being in there when the American junior championships are over at Kalamazoo, Mich. He has the same competitive spirit, the same concentration and the same fight as American juniors. He's good."

Foerster said that while the general impression is that this weed is something relatively new, "it is a fact this species has been recorded on the Pacific Coast of the continent from as far back as 1880's, and reported to have a distribution from Alaska to Puget Sound. The director said that during the last few years it has spread tremendously and become very bothersome in many places.

REASON FOR ABUNDANCE

"The opinion is that conditions for survival and further excellent growth of the weed have been exceedingly favorable during the last few years and this is the reason why it is becoming so abundant now.

"It may be with us for many years. It may get worse or it may gradually disappear again as oceanic conditions change," said Foerster.

British Soccer Players Rest For Few Weeks After Craziest Season

LONDON (CP)—Soccer has stepped off the British sports stage for seven short weeks—while three players and harassed officials take stock of their "craziest-ever" year and worry about what will happen next season.

In February when a near-Arctic cold spell arrived, the longest non-playing interval ever experienced—some teams were out of competition six straight weeks—shattered the schedule. Then the government's ban on midweek sports forced an extension of more than a month in the season.

The north "invaded" London for two big end-of-the-season Wembley matches. In an international game a Scottish team surprised experts by holding England to a 1 to 1 draw before a 99,000 crowd. Another full house witnessed the classic of soccer, the Fouthill Association Cup final, when Charlton Athletic defeated Burnley, 1 to 0 in extra time. A "Rest of Europe" team, although trounced 6 to 1 by Great Britain, drew 134,000 into Glasgow's Hampden Park.

Here's how the promotion and

By PETE SALLAWAY

BASEBALL fans are as fickle as spring weather. Manager Ted Norbert enjoys great popularity with the customers at the local park but, when it appeared he had pulled a mental boner in Tuesday night's game, they were on him like a bunch of wolves. Tough part of it all was that Norbert was not to blame but had to experience a round of criticism every time he went into the third base coaching box the rest of the evening.

PLAY in question came up in the second inning. Vic Mastro on second base, stole third cleanly. Then to everybody's surprise he started trotting back to second and was promptly run down and tagged out. The fans immediately started to ride Norbert, figuring he had sent Mastro back on the assumption the umpire had called a foul ball. Here's what actually happened. Charlie Peterson, Yakima catcher, playing smart, yelled a "fake" foul and Mastro, thinking the plate umpire had made the call started back. So it was no fault of Norbert's he was put out, costing Victoria a run. Mastro got ample revenge later with his two home runs to cost Yakima the game. Fans are often too ready to criticize when they don't know the facts.

REASON for Canada failing to develop top tennis players is the long winter layoff. That is the opinion of Dave Gillam, United States professional, now in Vancouver to give instruction to players in the mainland city. "The Do-inion is and always will be one of the poorer tennis countries in the world unless drastic action is taken to rectify the lack of training," Gillam said.

PRACTICE is needed to reach the top 10 in world tennis, and as long as no action is taken to nullify the harmful effects of the winter inactivity, Canadians will not attain that high mark," Gillam said. "What is needed are some indoor courts for winter play. The players who show promise, particularly youngsters, are trained well throughout the summer and by September have learned quite a bit. But the long winter lay-off takes away the edge of their game and it takes at least a month in the spring to regain it."

GILLAM is particularly high on Lorne Main, 16-year-old Vancouver Lad, who at 15, was ranked 16th in the junior lists in the United States. "Lorne ranks with the top juniors in the U.S. I have played against him a few times, and he is good. ## Vets, Foul Bay Risk Boxla Win Streaks

A winning streak in the local senior box lacrosse league is going to come to an end tonight at Stevenson Park.

Canadian Legion who have not tasted defeat locally in two years will risk that unblemished mark once again in what should be their stiffest opposition to date. Their opponents will be Foul Bay, who are themselves riding the crest of a winning streak having taken their last four starts handily. Game time is 7, with the main event to be preceded by a juvenile game.

New York Yankees Buy Lonnie Frey

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees Wednesday purchased infielder Linus (Lonnie) Frey from Chicago Cubs for an undisclosed amount in a straight cash deal.

A left-handed hitter, Frey batted .246 with Cincinnati Reds last season while appearing in 111 games as a second baseman. He was bought early this year by the Cubs, who had sold him to the Reds in 1938.

Jensen's Hit Payoff Blow For Athletics

Members of the Victoria Athletics' ball club may hail from sunny California but they are still good mudders. They proved it last night by putting on a fifth-inning rally, during a mild cloudburst, to defeat Yakima Stars 8 to 2 in a game called at the end of the 5th owing to the weather. It was the third straight victory over the Washington club and marked the first Western International League series sweep for the Victoria nine at home.

Tonight the Athletics open a four-game series with the third-place Salem Senators. Single games will be played tonight and Friday with two engagements Saturday. When questioned last night Manager Ted Norbert was dubious over his pitching selection for tonight.

Ray Fortier, slender southpaw with a lot of courage, and hustling third sacker, Babe Jensen, co-starred in last night's triumph. Fortier, bothered with control trouble, pitched himself out of tough spots in every inning and it was not until the top of the fifth that the law of averages caught up with him and Yakima pushed across two runs to tie the score. During the first four innings the Stars led 10 men stranded on the sacks as Fortier set them down in the clutches.

TIMELY BLOW

It was Jensen's stinging two-base smash to left centre field, with the bases loaded, that proved the finishing blow to Yakima. With the rain pelting down, the score tied, the A's took their turn at bat in the bottom half of the fifth with the feeling they had to win the game or see it called with no winner.

Pat Patterson worked hurler Jack Meister for a walk and promptly pilfered second. He was sacrificed along to third by Johnny Hooper. White popped up to third baseman Robinson for the second out. Vic Mastro was intentionally walked and Jack Harshman drew himself free passage to load the sacks. Jensen drove the ball into deep left-centre for two bases and three runs scored. Johnny Cavalli singled Jensen home and scored himself on Leo Righetti's line double to centre. Fortier got himself a walk and that was all for Meister with Keith Simon relieving. Patterson, up for the second time, greeted Simon with a single scoring Righetti with the sixth run.

Umpires then halted play for 30 minutes following which they called the game.

Ian Hamilton, Former Pole Vault Champion, Assisting 'Y' Team

Pole vaulting enthusiasts will be interested to learn that a former Canadian champion, Ian Hamilton of Winnipeg is now assisting the Y.M.C.A. track and field team in its workouts at the High School grounds.

Hamilton won the Canadian championship in 1938, and prior to that captured the intercollegiate title while attending the University of Toronto in 1935. He held the Manitoba title from 1932 to 1938 and is still holder of the Manitoba and Saskatchewan record of 12 feet six inches. He was a member of the North End Amateur Athletic Club of Winnipeg.

Bruce Humber drilled his sprinters in the intricate art of baton passing during Tuesday night's workout, winding up with a few sprints at 100 and 200 yards.

Archie McKinnon, handling the middle distance men worked his proteges at three-quarter distances and reported that times were quite good. He announced that Harvey Cox a member of the R.C.N., will run for the club at the police sports in Vancouver, July 1.

The club will work out again tonight at 6.30.

Coroner Declares Pressure Met In Fight Inquiry

CLEVELAND (AP) — Declaring that he does not want "a cloud on Ohio boxing," Coroner Samuel R. Gerber today promised a complete investigation of the death of Jimmy Doyle, 22-year-old Californian who never regained consciousness after being knocked out by welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson in the eighth round of a title fight at the arena here Tuesday night.

"A great deal of unholy pressure has been put on me to divert this investigation," said Dr. Gerber. "I am going to make a complete investigation. I will talk to anyone who has anything to do with this."

Dr. Gerber did not elaborate on what he meant by pressure.

The coroner opened his probe last night by questioning Robinson, his manager, George Gainford, and two other handlers of the champion.

Robinson was accused during questioning by Dr. Gerber of be-

Steele Proves Too Experienced In Taking Fight

Professional boxing returned to Victoria last night after a long absence, and although there was little wrong with the quality of leather swingers in the semi-wind-up and the main event, the 600-odd fans had plenty to say about the unnecessary delays that were prevalent on the card.

Freddie Steele of Vancouver and Cedric Flournoy of Detroit, a pair of crowd-pleasing featherweights, put up a good fight in the 10-round main event. Steele, however, displayed far too much ring-craft and experience for the smaller Flournoy and won the unanimous decision of officials as well as the "rubber match" between the two 128-pounders.

Steele's southpaw style seemed to bother the negro and he scored repeatedly with hard left hooks to the face and body. Flournoy, who was the aggressor most of the time, was continually tied up by Steele in close.

Fans who like their fighting rough and tough and with little respect for the fine points of the game, certainly received their money's worth in the six-round semifinal between Victoria's Gordie Gordienko and Sam Hughes of Detroit.

KAYO FOR HUGHES

Hughes, who gave away 13 pounds, knocked out the local heavy in the sixth round when Gordienko was helpless, but still on his feet.

Argument over purses held up both the semi-wind-up and main event, much to the displeasure of the fans. Hughes was 20 minutes late in appearing for his bout, while both Steele and Flournoy were nearly half an hour behind schedule in making their appearance in the ring.

ing "evasive." So was Gainford, later.

"Why did you ask twice that this fight be postponed?" Dr. Gerber asked Robinson. "Wasn't it because you learned Doyle was not in proper shape for such a fight?"

Robinson denied that and said it was his own eye cuts, received in a bout with Georgia Abrams, which forced the fight to be postponed twice.

Frank Scroggs Bests Bernie Anderson As Legion Edge Gasmen

Canadian Legion are moving up in the senior amateur ball race. Last year's champions have suddenly begun to get good pitching. Last night it was Frank Scroggs, the big righthander, who gave the Vets their fourth straight win, a 1 to 0 verdict over Pitzer and Nex, in one of the tightest played games of the year.

Loss in the brilliant pitcher's duel was absorbed by Bernie Anderson, McLellan's jack of all trades, who allowed but six hits as compared to the five garnered from Scroggs.

Legion leftfielder Harry Downs scored the only run of the game in the bottom half of the eighth inning, scoring from third on a single by shortstop Wally Thomson.

In chalking up the shutout, his first of the season, Scroggs walked three men while striking out six. Two of his whiffs came in the first of the ninth when the Gasmen threatened to knot the score.

Legion made three double plays which aided in cutting down every possible threat by the losers. Fielding gem of the game, however, was turned in by Buddy Bendall centrefielder of Pitzer and Nex, who came up with a shoestring catch on a low line drive.

Short score follows:

Pitzer and Nex..... 0 5 2
Legion..... 1 6 1

Hundreds Line Harbor To Greet New Ferry Chinook On Arrival

Several hundred spectators lined the Causeway to watch the arrival of the new flagship of the Black Ball Line, Mr. Chinook, which made her maiden voyage to Victoria today from Seattle and Port Angeles.

The new streamlined ship, bedecked with flags, carried with her the first boatload of passengers and motorists from Seattle and Port Angeles. There were over 290 passengers aboard including 50 cars. The majority embarked at Seattle.

The ship, under the command of Capt. Lyle Fowler, docked at the Black Ball Ferry Line wharf, which is still under construction at the James Bay end of Wharf Street. She was welcomed by a delegation from the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, including George Paulin, agent for the company.

The first person aboard the new ferry was George C. Dingwall, Canadian customs officer. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, 1334 Beach Drive, Victoria, were the first to drive off in a car from the vessel—marking the inauguration of a new automobile transportation service between the United States mainland and Victoria.

The youthful skipper, Capt. Fowler said the trip had been pleasant. "She is easy to handle and has a good speed," he said.

Aboard the vessel was Capt. Alex M. Peabody, president of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, who said on the ship's arrival here the new service inaugurated between Seattle, Port Angeles would do a great deal in increasing the tourist trade to Victoria.

"The travel industry between the mainland is bound to increase," he said. "We built the ship because we were aware of the growing interest on the part of the American public to the many advantages of a vacation and holiday in Victoria and on Vancouver Island."

He said the trip had been very successful pointing out the Chinook had ran only on two engines and at half speed between Seattle and Port Angeles.

"We got to Port Angeles on time, after that we put the ship on full speed and made the crossing to Victoria in good time."

The Chinook is all-steel, fire-proof, according to Capt. Peabody, who pointed out that even the drapes were made of glass. The ferry can accommodate over 1,000 passengers, including 100 cars on a spacious two-lane automobile deck.

More than 100 persons at a time can be served in the train dining salon on the after boat-deck of the ship which, also boasts a large salon on the promenade deck, designed and furnished for comfort and relaxation.

An object of great interest in the salon is a large, hand-carved lucite scale map of Puget Sound, border-lighted in a most unusual manner.

There is also a garden lounge located forward, and an air-conditioned after lounge and observation room. The ship is also decorated with a number of original paintings drawn by artist Ross Gill of the State of Washington.

Another attraction are two luxurious bridal suites, a coffee shop. All staterooms, from deluxe to standard are fitted with combollet lavatories, hot and cold running water and air-conditioned. There are no berths all staterooms having twin or double beds.

The Chinook left this afternoon on her first trip from Victoria to Port Angeles. She is scheduled to leave this afternoon at 5:15 p.m. for Seattle, following her return from Port Angeles.

Building permits have been issued to H. C. Ackerman to build a 5-room house at 1347 Finlayson Street, $7,500; and to D. S. MacLean to build a 4-room house at 1778 Chandler, $5,000.

Cruiser Uganda Goes Into Reserve

An active chapter of training duties for Canada's postwar fleet came to end for H.M.C.S. Uganda which returned to H.M.C.S. Naden today, following completion of 10-day training cruise in B.C. coastal waters.

The warship will be placed in the reserve fleet along with a score of destroyers and frigates now lying idle in the naval harbor.

There were hundreds of spectators at the government jetty to see the warship, manned by approximately 700 men, arrive at her berth. The Uganda has been commanded by Capt. Kenneth F. Adams, R.C.N., of Victoria.

The Uganda is expected to be replaced by H.M.C.S. Ontario.

Auto Workers Plan Organization Drive

Automotive Workers' Federal Union 151 (A.F. of L.) are planning an organization in the Greater Victoria area to obtain similarity of wages and working conditions for the entire trade, it was decided at a meeting Wednesday evening.

Considerable discussion followed the reading of correspondence and a working agreement recently concluded by the union in Vancouver. The executive was instructed to approach local firms to tray and obtain a comparable agreement.

Nine new members were seated at the meeting. Fred Carter gave an outline of the meeting of the Old Age Pension campaign council, on which he is a delegate.

Const. Brook Douglas spoke on the necessity of co-operation to prevent and reduce traffic accidents. He stressed that automotive workers as a group should be more keenly aware of the growing incidence of traffic accidents and how they can best be prevented.

He made a special plea that no one should drive while under the influence of liquor, and asked that anyone in doubt as to his ability to drive should contact the police station and ask the police to take care of the car instead of endangering innocent persons.

Const. Douglass showed a film, "Teach Them to Drive."

Forty Cars Needed

Between 30 and 40 more cars are still required to supply transportation to pilots and their crews when 250 privately-owned aircraft pay a visit to this city Saturday, Norman Foster, in charge of the reception, said today.

The planes will land at Patricia Bay and transportation is needed to bring the visitors into the city to attend a special luncheon at the Bay Street Armories.

This is the first visit of its kind and planes will come from up-Island, the mainland and the United States. The flight has been arranged by the Seattle Owners and Pilots' Association.

Any person who is willing to supply transportation is asked to contact the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Local Woman, One Of Million, Sought As 'Missing Shareholder'

Anyone who has knowledge of the whereabouts of Mrs. Annie Fleming, who used to live at 1104 Johnson Street and later at 2056 Oak Bay Avenue, is asked to communicate with Detective Insp. Henry F. Jarvis at the city police station.

Her whereabouts is being sought in connection with a world-wide survey to locate people who have bought stocks in corporations and have dividend cheques awaiting them.

Periodically every few months in fact, the city police are in receipt of a list of people from New York City specialists in tracing missing persons, to inform them that they have money awaiting them.

In the United States and Canada alone there are more than 1,000,000 who could gather in a total of several millions of dollars if only they remembered they are stockholders in "going concerns."

There is no telling how many of these missing stockholders have died, but a study by the company shows it is the small investor who has had the lapse of memory, or has mislaid or lost his one to 10 shares of stock.

A spot check of 500 corporations by the company disclosed they have a list of 167,000 stockholders whose addresses they do not know. One firm headed this list with 40,000 "missing" stockholders.

The current list to reach Insp. Jarvis' department contained four names.

One man has been contacted and informed of the fact he is a stockholder in a certain firm. Another party is dead, but his sister has been interviewed by the department and told about her brother's investment in a firm. She had been unaware of it.

A fourth party, a man, went to the Old Country 15 years ago. Insp. Jarvis has learned. Inquiries will be made in England to trace his present whereabouts.

Sidney Carnival, Sports Day Is Outstanding Success

Turning out in record numbers for the annual Sidney carnival and sports day at Memorial Park on Wednesday, residents of Sidney and district and visitors from the Gulf Islands saw Annabelle Galloway crowned Carnival Queen for 1947 by retiring Queen Phyllis Segalera.

Starting shortly after 1:30 from the corner of Beacon Avenue and Third Street, a parade of decorated floats and bicycles sent the carnival afternoon off to a good start. A large number of spectators lined the route and cheers greeted the newly-elected queen.

Seated high on a throne on a decorated 16-foot-long trailer, Queen Annabelle made a beautiful picture as she acknowledged the salutations along the parade route. Her court of honor included Princesses Jean Dyer and Lettie Bowker.

Drawing to the front of the grandstand the regal party was received by the parade marshal, Geo. Baal. Escorted to the rostrum by Frank Stenton, the retiring queen, Phyllis Segalera, placed the crown on the head of Annabelle Galloway and presented gifts to the princesses and other contestants in the queen contest.

Following a brief ceremony Queen Annabelle and her court retired to a special position in the grandstand.

The parade of floats saw Sidney School, complete with pupils and desks, walk off with first prize. In the decorated bicycle event David Peedle placed first. The pet parade saw Gary Howard and Maxine Magee with their pet—a dog and "pups" neatly bedded down—win first. Dennis Connor with his guinea pig, Marion Olson with white kittens, also won prizes. Special mention was given Billy Shanks with his rabbits and Delores Lockwood of Ganges, with her Mexican dog "Chico."

Competition was keen in the full afternoon of sports.

Jim Robertson of Sidney topped individual wins as aggregate champion with 18 points. Girls' aggregate champion was Linnea Newton. Victoria Y.M.C.A. were victorious in points; with 52. Sidney 41, the Navy (H.M.C.S. Naden) followed with 16, and Salt Spring Island, 8.

David Spencer Ltd. took out a building permit for $15,000 alterations to the Arcade Building today, and the Bank of Nova Scotia took out one for $23,000 alterations to the Douglas Street branch.

Birley, Wade and Stockhill are architects for the Arcade Building alterations. No contractor's name was given.

E. H. Shockley is the contractor for the Bank of Nova Scotia job, and Sharpe and Thompson, Vancouver, were named as architects. The alterations will be to the interior of the building.

In one section an artist may find what is almost a replica of an English village scene," he said. "Five minutes away, a scene as modern as tomorrow's city block."

For the next few days he will sketch in the Saanich area.

Mr. Forster was impressed with the stimulation given to art on Vancouver Island through the Little Centre, comparing it with similar movements and artists' colonies in California which have played such an important part in building up the reputation the Garden State has won in the field of art.

Bringing to Victoria a collection of canvases from the Royal Canadian Exhibit at Ottawa, he thought, was an idea worthy of highest commendation.

The "Painting for Fun" exhibit of Brentwood College impressed him. "Encouragement for young people to express themselves on canvas without over-emphasis, in the early stages, on technique, may well lead to the development of talented artists who might otherwise become discouraged during the initial stages of learning," he said.

Two Scotch boys, aged 19 and 20, stationed with the British Army have written Mayor Percy George asking for pen pals, preferably girls. They suggest that anyone writing, mark the envelope "Forces Mail—Air Mail" to facilitate delivery. Their addresses are 14159270, Furs. John Callan, Support Coy. Motor Pl. 1st Bn. R.S.F., Gillespie Sines, Merrut, U.P. Indian Command; and 14049260, Furs. Ross Hutchison, Support Coy., Pioneer Pl. 1st Bn. R.S.F., Gillespie Sines, Merrut.

Canada Academy Exhibit At Little Centre Pleases

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

The exhibit to be seen currently, at the Little Centre, Yates Street, is a collection of 24 canvases taken from the annual Royal Canadian Academy exhibit held at the National Gallery, Ottawa.

The pictures are pleasant and interesting to view. There is nothing to outrage the conventional eye or excite the Freudian mind, but neither is there anything remarkable enough to form a significant contribution to Canadian art. It is not to be supposed that these pictures are representative of the best work being done in Canada at the present time, remembering former exhibits, particularly the Canadian war artists. However, all this does not infer that the show should be ignored. It has many good qualities. Technical skill of a high order and lively individualism is choice of subject, approach and execution. None of the pictures are deeply stirring but many of them are decidedly satisfying and entertaining to the eye.

Most delightful picture in the exhibit is "City Lights" by Tom Roberts, A.R.C.O., O.S.A. The Toronto street corner makes a good study in contrasts, with the color and brilliance of the Neon lights reflected in dark wet pavement. There is charm of color and arrangement in Harry Britton's "Early Morning" and "Young Dancer" by R. York Wilson is striking because it captures so well the character of early adolescence.

In addition to the main exhibit there is a lively showing by the Brentwood College Art Club, whose password is "Painting for Fun." Free, unobstructed by rules and close instruction, the 14 and 15-year-old boys have produced paintings that are vigorous, original and full of promise. Their experiment is one that is well worth while pursuing and if more such groups spring up in other schools, the Brentwood College Art Club will have done good service to the cause of art.

A window at the Little Centre has been set aside for a display of the crafts of B.C. Indians. There is a wide selection of fine work including basketry, beadwork and woodcarving.

Sugar Increase May Up Soft Drink Supply

Increase in the sugar allotment to industrial users may boost the candy supply but will not affect chocolates, according to manager of one Victoria candy shop.

Reason for the chocolate shortage is that chocolate which comes from Africa and other equatorial countries is still in short supply, he said.

A substantial increase in production of soft drinks, was expected by manufacturers, providing enough bottles were supplied. The increase in sugar will help out bakeries, but at the present time the shortening supply is the main problem.

Delegates Visit Saanich Bulb Farms

Bulb farming operations at the P. Crampton Bulb Farm were shown more than 135 delegates to the Allied Florists and Growers of Canada convention in Vancouver earlier this week, who spent Wednesday on a tour of Saanich Peninsula.

The tour was sponsored by bulb and seed growers, florists, greenhouse operators and nurserymen.

The delegates, many of them eastern buyers, were given an opportunity to witness the growing end of the business here, which has been flourishing in past years. They saw various bulb-lifting machines demonstrated.

In the evening, the delegates attended a dinner at the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanichton. Ray Woolridge, president of the British Columbia Bulb Growers' Federation, was master of ceremonies. E. R. Hall, assistant superintendent, welcomed them to the Experimental Station, and Hon. Norman Whitaker, K.C., to the Island.

E. W. White, district horticulturist and A. J. Hourston of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, showed the visitors motion pictures of bulb and seed production in British Columbia.

Wong Ying pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping liquor for sale at 562 Fisgard Street on May 24 in city police court this morning and through defence counsel, Patrick Sinnott, paid the $300 fine imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Sgt. John Howe, in giving evidence, told of finding a quantity of liquor on the premises.

Accidental Death Jury's Verdict In Beaver Lake Death

A verdict of accidental death by drowning was returned by a coroner's jury at Sands Mortuary today, at the inquest on Victor Robert Hastings, 17, Adelaide Street, Alberni, who was drowned while on a night swimming party with seven other young people at Beaver Lake, early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Mabel Hastings, mother of the deceased, said she last saw her son at 11:30 Monday night at 743 Market Street. She said he was a good swimmer and used to lake water. In answer to a question, she said her son was sober.

Norman E. Ferguson, a member of the swimming party, said the deceased seemed sober. He added that he did not see him in the water at all.

On several occasions Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, warned two of the witnesses of the punishment for perjury.

In instructing the jury he said: "This appears to have been a drunken spree."

He added that the question of supplying liquor to minors and of perjury were not a concern of the coroner's jury.

Joan Baldwin said she and Edward Brown 19, joined the group, who were in a car driven by Richard Hudlin, at Beacon Hill Park.

"We had a bottle before we met the party and they had one. Hastings had some drinks. I saw him take three or four," she said.

Miss Baldwin then told of the group staying at Beacon Hill Park Lookout and having a drink there. They continued to Mt. Tolmie, where they also had a drink, she said. The group got beer at the Half Way House in Esquimalt, which they drank on the way to Clover Point, she said. They did not drink at Beaver Lake, she added.

"I was in the water before the deceased. He dived in twice. The first time he swam about 40 feet from the float and back. He seemed all right. He dived in a second time and passed me while I was on my way back to the float. I turned around and saw he wasn't moving," Miss Baldwin told the jury.

"When I reached the float I saw him go under and come up," she said, adding that she called to the others and dived in after Hastings.

She estimated that he would have been in the water about 45 minutes from the time she last saw him, until his body was brought out of the water.

Richard Hudlin, 27, said the party left town in his car about 11:30. He said he thought the deceased had about three drinks.

"I did not go in the water. I paid no attention until a girl hollered. I dived for him three times but couldn't find him. I took the car and went for the Saanich police," witness said.

Cpl. John Hamilton of Saanich police said he received a call at 1:55 Tuesday morning to go to Beaver Lake.

"We took dragging equipment and started dragging at 2:15 and recovered the body at 2:35. Artificial respiration was given."

Other members of the swimming party giving evidence were Edward Brown, Joyce Taylor, Harriet O'Connor and Constance Smith.

Constable Leslie Ledson and Capt. Glen Robbins gave evidence.

On the jury were Burton E. Dean, Gordon Bertwhistle, Douglas Atkins, Charles Dale, Ernest Langston and John V. Delidai. Last named was foreman.

Social Insurance Transfers Studied

LONDON (CP) — Representatives of Dominions, including Canada, who attended a recent Commonwealth social insurance conference here must attempt to find a method of transferring social insurance rights from one country to another.

Special arrangements will have to be made between the United Kingdom and each of the Dominions because the extent and method of social insurance vary in each country.

The Canadian unemployment insurance system, operated on a Dominion basis, probably could be fitted in with similar British arrangements without much difficulty. More complications would arise with old age pension and other social security programs in which the provinces make contributions, sometimes of differing amounts.

Problems also arise from different Commonwealth arrangements for contributions from the individual. A British subject moving from a country where he made contributions by pay deductions of the like to an insurance plan would be apt to feel he had something owing him if he moved to a Dominion where no such deduction was made.

Retroactive provisions will be suggested to benefit those who have changed their place of residence and have been unable to enjoy social security provisions for which they paid in the country they left.

Open Verdict On Death Of Bride In Muskoka River

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont. (CP) — The strange drowning of Christina Kettlewell, bride of eight days, whose body was found May 20 in shallow water in the Severn River in Ontario's Muskoka district, today was as much a mystery as ever. The inquest ended Wednesday night with an open verdict which said:

"This jury finds Christina Kettlewell came to her death on May 20 at Dinnertime Rapids in the Severn River, Muskoka, in a small cove near the cottage owned by Ronald Barrie, by drowning."

"Due to the fact that the post mortem examination disclosed cocaine in the stomach of the deceased, and the suspicious fact that she was found drowned in nine inches of water, your jury is unable to decide from the evidence given whether or not there were foul means employed in her death."

The verdict left it to police to pursue their investigations which had already resulted in a tangled tale before the inquest jury. The two principals in the case, and the two witnesses whose testimony occupied the greater part of the inquest, are Jack Kettlewell, husband of the dead girl, and Ronald Barrie, his life-long friend. Neither was in the courtroom during the final sitting.

C. P. Hope, K.C., of the Ontario Attorney-General's Department, placed on the stand Dr. C. S. Tennant, superintendent of the Ontario Mental Hospital at near-by Penetanguishene, who had sat in as an observer from the start of the inquest last Thursday.

Barrie, who denied having had unnatural sex relations with Kettlewell, was described in the witness box as a "pathological liar" by Dr. Tennant. The noted psychiatrist spoke of Kettlewell as "weak in character and dominated by . . . Barrie" and said Christina had been "abnormal in her reactions and behavior, but not sufficiently so to be considered insane."

In his charge to the jury, Mr. Hope said evidence had disclosed a tangled skein of "deception, love and bestiality." He did not doubt the possibility Christina had committed suicide, but he questioned the circumstances which led to her being found in nine inches of water with no marks on her feet.

Probably the most dangerous insect for transmission of disease is the fly. They should be destroyed on sight, screening should be erected and health authorities urge the proper coverage and thorough destruction of garbage.

To Study Circuit Courts In Alberta

Magistrate H. S. Wood, Vancouver, has been asked by Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer to visit Alberta to make a study of the circuit court system in operation there, indicating the possibility of reorganization of appointments and methods in B.C. magistrates' courts.

At the last session of the Legislature, some private members suggested local residents appointed to the bench, but who lacked legal background, might not be competent to interpret certain points of law. At that time Mr. Wismer said he would undertake to review the B.C. system.

The Attorney-General's department is now considering proposals that administration of justice which involves interpretation of the law in the lower court be put under the jurisdiction of legally-trained magistrates under a circuit system similar to that of the assize courts, while local appointees might be left to handle minor cases.

1946 Hospital Collections Fall Below Level Of 1945

The year 1946 was a bad financial one for the Royal Jubilee Hospital, although it saw a large expansion of work in all departments, reports presented at the annual meeting this afternoon indicated.

Charles Morrison, business manager, told the board of directors that for the first time since 1939 the hospital's operating account showed a deficit before depreciation charges. This he explained, was caused by costs increasing so rapidly that even increases in daily rates from July 1 last left expenditures for care of patients exceeding fees charged by $48,938. Deductions from patient revenue, such as rebates, free service to indigents, etc., amounted to $189,289, while grants from public funds were $168,667, leaving a deficit of $20,622.

Collection of fees fell off from 1945 he reported, with percentage of fees coming in during 1946 being 76.5 while in 1945 it was 79.8 per cent.

An analysis of expenditure increases showed that cost of supplies and purchased services was 19.67 per cent higher than in 1945, he stated, and the net payroll was up 17.08 per cent. These increases were much more sharply accentuated during the last six months of the year he stressed, so that monthly expenditures are now up from $62,000 to $82,000.

Jubilee Salary Bill Doubled During Seven-Year Period

Salaries and wages paid by Royal Jubilee Hospital have more than doubled since 1939, G. H. Stevens, president of the board of directors, reported to the annual meeting today. In 1939 the salary bill was $205,000, while in 1946 it was $531,000.

The same applies to supplies, he said, costing $184,000 in 1939 and $348,000 in 1946.

"Government regulations and demands elsewhere for experienced help have necessitated higher wages," he stated, "shorter hours, superannuation benefits, holidays with pay, yet there has been a falling-off in receipts due to the inability of a large and increasing proportion of our population to pay for the services required by modern medical standards."

He insisted that provincial and municipal governments must find a way to relieve the board of directors of the burden which has been forced upon it by circumstances over which it has no control.

He paid tribute to the co-operation and helpfulness of medical, consultant and active staffs in

100 Bed Addition Urgent At Jubilee Directors Told

At the end of 1946 Royal Jubilee Hospital still had 40 beds vacant because of the lack of nurses and other help, Dr. T. W. Walker, retiring superintendent, told the Board of Directors today at the annual meeting. The hospital has a maximum capacity of 524 beds, he said, and there has been a long waiting list for private and public ward beds, and many elective cases have been refused admission. He gave assurance, however, that no emergencies have been refused.

Although the hospital has no out-patient department, during 1946 there was an average of over 1,400 out-patients monthly, he said, and the emergency out-patient section has had 5,467 admissions for the year, with an average of 15 a day.

The lack of proper space for this department has impaired its efficiency, and also that of the admitting department, he told the directors, as out-patients occupy the admitting office and often leave no place for patients waiting to be admitted.

"There is no doubt that an organized out-patient department is long overdue," he stressed, "its value to the hospital would be shown in the cutting down of the number of admissions to the hospital."

Dr. Walker also emphasized that there is a demand for a new building to house the X-ray department and the children's ward, and to add 100 more beds. "It is urgent and should be proceeded with at the earliest possible moment," he said.

He reported that a tumor clinic has been organized and it is hoped will be in operation very soon. "This clinic is for the purpose of giving advice free to the patient and assisting the doctor in making an early diagnosis," he said.

while revenue has gone up only from $64,000 to $74,000 a month.

He attached particular significance to the drop in fee collection as indicating that the individual patient cannot assume any further share in the reduction of operating deficits. Mr. Morrison felt that the growth of the Blue Cross plan was encouraging but pointed out that there are still many "medical indigents" who are not eligible for this form of protection and they are growing in number.

He warned that "curtailment of services as a way towards reduction of expense is not open to us," Mr. Morrison continued his report, "We lack funds for expansion of service departments to meet the needs of the additional patient accommodation installed since 1940, and for replacement of machinery and equipment worn out or of insufficient capacity to handle the increased volume."

One answer to increasing labor costs would be the installation of more labor-saving machinery he said, particularly in the laundry and accounting departments. During 1946, also the turnover of personnel in some departments was high, resulting in impaired efficiency and high costs. This is being rectified by salary adjustments and adoption of a defined policy with regard to salaries and superannuation.

bringing the hospital to its present degree of efficiency, and also to Dr. T. W. Walker, who retired at the end of 1946 after 14 years as superintendent.

All Departments At Jubilee Show Increased Activity

In all departments, Royal Jubilee Hospital showed increased activity during 1946, according to the statistical report submitted to the annual meeting of the board of directors today.

Admissions went up from 8,753 in 1945 to 9,868 during 1946. This included live births. The average number of patients per day rose from 362 to 376, while the number of hospital days treatment was 137,801 compared with 132,357. The average time spent per patient in the hospital dropped from 13.6 to 12.87, however.

There were 1,316 live births, an increase over 1,074. The number of major operations increased from 1,043 to 1,188, and of minor operations from 2,032 to 2,773. The number of general anaesthetics by the introduction of spinal and intravenous anaesthetics, 1,029 of which were given.

There were 673,383 meals served, 1,933,168 pieces of laundry given, and 80,858 laboratory examinations performed.

Private Wards One Of Greatest Needs Dr. Beckett Says

One of the greatest needs at Royal Jubilee Hospital is private ward space, Dr. Morley Beckett, new superintendent, told the annual meeting of the board of directors today.

At the present time there are still 12 private rooms not being operated, partly because of lack of staff and partly because the laboratory is using the space, which is not a good state of affairs, he said. Both the X-ray and laboratory departments are badly in need of extra space, he stressed.

He outlined for the directors some of the problems faced by hospital administrators, to maintain the standards of medical and hospital care needed in modern society, and yet to operate at an economical level which will not place hospital care beyond the reach of those who need it.

One of the main difficulties during the past years has been the obtaining of staff, he stated, as hospitals must compete with other industries to get personnel, and most industries do not require seven-day-a-week operation, 24 hours a day.

He cited the closing of the annex as an example of how the hospital was improving its efficiency. The 30 patients, formerly in the annex, are now in the main building and the annex will probably be used as living quarters for student dietitians and student nurses.

Rector, 67, Plans To Marry Girl, 18

TREDINGTON, Warwicks, Eng. (CP)—Rev. Thomas Wallace Lumb, 67, will marry Joan

Hitchman, 18-year-old former village May Queen, it was learned today.

Lumb, vicar of the village parish, whose wife died a year ago at the age of 91, said today when asked about his marriage plans: "I'm not saying where or exactly when."

Joan, a regular church goer and choir singer, was a trifle worried when the news leaked out.

"Oh dear, I hope the vicar won't be vexed," she said. "You see we are engaged and we didn't know many people heard about it."

Gershwin Songs In New Musical

Eleven previously unpublished songs by the late George Gershwin will be heard for the first time when "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," Twentieth Century-Fox's new technicolor musical starring Betty Grable and Dick Haymes, opens today at the Capitol Theatre. The songs were discovered by George's brother Ira, who wrote lyrics to them for the gay and romantic musical.

Among the songs heard in the film are: "For You, For Me, For Evermore," "Aren't you Kind of Glad We Did?", "Changing

My Tune," "But Not in Boston," and "Waltzing Is Better Sitting Down."

Betty Grable, in the role of the first female typist, and Dick Haymes as her reluctant employer, share singing honors.

DOMINION THEATRE

James Craig, hero of many recent film romances, is seen in a brand new characterization as a young doctor, with Lucille Bremer as his girl friend, in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer medical-detective drama, "Dark Delusion," now at the Dominion Theatre.

Craig, who appears as assistant to Lionel Barrymore, the famed Dr. Gillespie, was seen recently in "Boys' Ranch."

CRUSTY GENE LOCKHART gives his reluctant approval to typewriter and typist, Betty Grable, in 20th Century-Fox's new technicolor musical, "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," showing today at the Capitol Theatre. The film tells the amusing story of the trials and tribulations of the first girl typist ever to be employed in a business office. Dick Haymes is co-starred.

'Calcutta' Coming To Royal Screen

Gail Russell once again is the recipient of Alan Ladd's love-making in Paramount's "Calcutta," a thrilling murder-mystery with an Indian background. The film arrives tomorrow at the Royal Theatre, with William Bendix their co-star.

Miss Russell won the role only after an interview with Director John Farrow, whom she convinced of her ability to play a character entirely out of keeping with her previous screen portrayals.

Her part is that of a girl residing in Calcutta, who is not only implicated in a murder, but is one of the principal suspects.

ATLAS THEATRE

Columbia Pictures' "The Jolson Story," with Larry Parks, Evelyn Keyes, William Demarest and Bill Goodwin, is currently at the Atlas Theatre. Filmed in technicolor, this extravaganza is based on the music, magic and times of the great entertainer.

Hollywood

PAAR INSULTS BRASS, BECOMES HIT

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Hollywood's newest comedy sensation, Jack Paar, landed in the movies because, as a GI entertainer during the war, he insulted army brass hats from one end of the Pacific to the other.

To a Base Command Officer: "The only way you'll ever get caught between two desks coming together."

The tens of thousands of men Jack entertained in the Pacific will be happy to hear that he is now insulting the brass hats in Hollywood.

To Producer Sid Rogell: "I just saw a trailer of your latest picture. If you haven't made it, don't."

But the Pacific veterans will be unhappy to hear that Hollywood hasn't figured out what to do with Jack Paar. Sure, he's a hit on the radio now as Jack Benny's summer replacement.

"I've got enough money to last for the rest of my life. If I commit suicide at noon tomorrow."

But after eight months under contract to RKO, Jack Paar still hasn't appeared in a movie.

A YOUNG FRED ALLEN

Jack, 29, who describes himself as "an aging Donald O'Connor," did some film tests by himself.

"They were terrific," says Jack, who has as much self-assurance as he has jokes. "Then they gave me a director and that mixed business, the screenplay, written by Stephen Longstreet, carries through nearly 40 years of Jolson's remarkable career.

Jack became a hero to heroes. He got bigger write-ups in the army papers than stars like Benny or Hope or Jack Carson. Paar was just one of the boys—a GI with enough nerve to insult the brass hats.

To a lieutenant who kept talking out loud during one of his shows: "Lieutenant, a man with

Resuming the prewar practice of exchanging teachers between England and Canada, Miss B. Griffin, left, and Miss Helen Becker, right, of Monterey School staff, will leave in July for England to teach there for one year. They have been given leave of absence by the school board for the year, and two English teachers are slated to come to Victoria to replace them. Grade 1 and 2 pupils are shown giving a farewell cheer for the teachers.

me up. He started talking about shading and reading my lines with tempo and stuff like that.

"I haven't got any shading. I've got four speeds—fast or slow or soft or loud."

Some people refer to Jack as a "young Fred Allen." Jack likes that. Fred is his idol. In fact, someone was trying to embarrass him in front of Fred at a New York cocktail party.

"You know, Fred, this Paar fellow worships you like a god."

To which Fred replied, "What a shame. Five hundred churches in New York and he's an atheist."

It was Jack Paar's irreverence to brass hats, as we said, and of just about everything else out in the Pacific during the war, that brought him to Hollywood's attention.

CAME FROM BUFFALO

Jack was a radio announcer in Cleveland and Buffalo when he was drafted into the U.S. army. It soon got around that he was a very funny fellow. He was sent around eastern camps to entertain troops. Then he was assigned to a Special Service Unit of GI talent. For months he and his troupe toured the Pacific foxholes.

Jack became a hero to heroes. He got bigger write-ups in the army papers than stars like Benny or Hope or Jack Carson. Paar was just one of the boys—a GI with enough nerve to insult the brass hats.

To a lieutenant who kept talking out loud during one of his shows: "Lieutenant, a man with your I.Q. should have a low voice, too."

To a commanding officer: "My dear sir, and you are none of the three."

To a noisy captain: "You be quiet or I'll take your shovel away and you won't have any fun at the beach tomorrow."

PLAZA THEATRE

One of Britain's most famous actors, Robert Newton, has one of the most unusual parts ever written for the screen in "Odd Man Out," now at the Plaza Theatre. Newton, who co-stars with dynamic James Mason, plays the role of Lukey, a half-crazed, drunken artist. Lukey becomes obsessed with the idea of painting the portrait of Mason, who is slowly dying of a bullet wound.
